KUREELPA-based On the Ridge cooking school went “on the road” this month to the Sunshine Coast Show in Nambour.

Chefs Tonya Jennings and Cathy Miller presented two one-hour sessions on the Heritage Building Society stage, with the audience able to tuck in as proof of the pudding.

“We received special requests from the Apex crew who were working in the nearby food outlet for extra vanilla panna cottas, from Charlie (Charlene) the stage and sound manager and from the lady who conducted the sheep-shearing demonstrations on the adjoining stage for our sticky date puddings with warm butterscotch sauce,” Tonya said.
